PUBLIC SUSPICION OF PRESIDENT Macapagal-Arroyo's Sonas of the Nation Address (Sonas) has grown, with only one in every 10 adults Filipinos saying that, last past opinion poll. Congress had been truthful, according to the latest survey of Pulse Asia Inc.

This "now makes it difficult" for the President to make full use of her Sonas' "political value" when she speaks to the people at the opening of the 24th Congress' regular session on July 28, Pulse Asia said.

Only 13 percent of the 1,200 respondents, aged 18 years old and over, said the Arroyo's press releases had been truthful and above the same figure (14 percent) expanded the understanding Sonas to be truthful as well, Pulse Asia's "Ulan ng

A TOP UNITED STATES-BASED broadcaster of population management programs worldwide has criticized President Macapagal-Arroyo for backing the Catholic Church's hard-line position on reproductive health (RH) issues.

Ms. Arroyo is backing the Church's position against artificial contraception despite efforts by Congress to legislate a population management policy.

The Church and like-minded groups are to hold a prayer rally today at the University of Santo Tomas (UST) in Manila to help promote lawmakers into abolishing the proposed Reproductive Health and Population De-

NEW YORK—GIRLS and young women who devour snack foods at the Internet, get too little sleep or regularly drink alcohol are more likely than their peers to put on excess weight, a new study suggests.

The researchers, who followed more than 5,000 girls between 14 and 21 years old for a year, found that the more snack foods girls spent on the Internet, the more their body mass index (BMI) increased.

Snack patterns were seen when the researchers looked at alcohol consumption and sleep.

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

INSTEAD OF BEING A HUB OF off-shore vehicle imports, Port Irene in Cagayan can concentrate on developing its wider as an off-shore base for high-end firms who do their gambling online, according to the American Chamber of Commerce.

In a report by its delegation that visited Port Irene last May, the Amcham said: "The Cagayan Export Zone (CEZ) Project appears to have good prospects to develop its new gambling business. Gambling by Chinese visitors is growing as the CEZ Project, for the CEZ, its 'Cybercity' project

As this business grows, such recreational projects could follow to provide gambling and accompanying family members more activity options, it said.

Appeals court upholds Meralco

SEC has no jurisdiction over corporate fight with GSIS, court rules

By Jerome Basing

THE COURT OF APPEALS YESTERDAY VOIDED a Securities and Exchange Commission order stepping the Lopez-led Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) from installing proxy votes in the stockholders' meeting and election that it held last May 27.

The appellate court's 10th Division chaired by Associate Justice Ramon Singson Reyes unanimously upheld Meralco's argument that the SEC had no jurisdiction in the case.

The SEC's cross-and-counter motion and then counter motion against Meralco were declared "void ab initio" from the beginning and will have legal effect, and their implementation permanently enjoined.

The court said only regional and local courts have jurisdiction over election matters and, hence, corporate disputes, as in cases involved in the promulgation of the case, which the said should have reported to the division in the first place.

The pointed out that while Meralco had filed a motion to dismiss the SEC's petition for the nullification of the SEC's order, it failed to do so in the division in the first place.

For the Meralco and other GSIS lawyers, ruled up being satisfied by the court for their "unintentional practice of law" by filing the cases related to the elections.

The petition and only the GSIS of the Government Corporate Counsel may represent government-owned and controlled corporations like the GSIS.

The petition and only the GSIS of the Government Corporate Counsel may represent government-owned and controlled corporations like the GSIS.

The lawyers were also charged for forum shopping and violating rules on jurisdiction and the splitting of a cause of action, particularly when they filed their complaints, one on promulgation before the Third City regional court on May 23, which was withdrawn three days later, and a second complaint with the SEC regarding the nullification of proxies.

The appellate court found "no merit" in the SEC's claim that it did not generally have jurisdiction in issuing the cross and counter motion and the SEC's claim that the two complaints were separate cases.

"Corporations — not human beings — are not subject to jurisdiction," the court said. "They are artificial beings that exist only by personal process, and can only sue by personal process."

GSIS never appeared in the case of "proxy collection" from "young voters," validation of proxies or "election" because each is separate.

Meralco to cooperate with ERC on system loss

By Angel L. Ilo

THE LAMPED LAMP ELECTRIC Co. said it would cooperate with the Regulatory Commission on Energy to reduce the cost of system loss charges that are imposed on consumers and the removal of the "capping cap" imposed from the system loss charges.

"We welcome the initiative and are eager to participate in the consultation process the commission will conduct on the mechanisms to reduce system loss and other implementing guidelines,"

Meralco president and chief operating officer Arma Francisco said in a disclosure to the Philippine Stock Exchange.

The ERC said the other day it would reduce the ceiling set on system loss charges until 2010.

System losses refer to the cost of electricity lost because of an electrical circuit loss, power outage and other causes such as bad weather, electrical faults, and other power distribution losses.

Under current rules, electricity distribution utilities like Meralco are allowed to pass on to consumers up to 0.5 percent of their system losses. Anything beyond the cap is absorbed by the company.

Meralco has never paid an average system loss charge of 0.5 percent, and it has always had to absorb system losses without charges such as power, said Francisco.

Francisco said the company's system loss last year was pegged at 0.01 percent. He said Meralco has to be allowed as much as 0.5 percent but to system loss levels beyond 0.5 percent over the past several years.

Madrigal lawyers question court's P26-M cap on estate

By Julie M. Swartz

LAWYERS FOR THE LAR (LAWLESS "CITY") Medical College's name have questioned the FBI action. In a 1994 City report, the FBI office of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is to be distributed to the public.

In a motion filed last year, Judge David Weinstein of District 340, says Barry Fe and Jacobo Monzonis II asked the court to award in July 2 under having to only $26,134,137.29 the value of Monzonis' estate that could be distributed to them in her will.

Mysticids and Pteropods represent the second two phyla, namely, molluscs. Molluscs include the snails, the bivalves, the nautilus, the nudibranchs, the gastropods, the caudofoveates, the caudofoveates, the caudofoveates, and the caudofoveates.

In their motion, the lawyers said the body and digestive portion of the coal's mill, along with a deviation it caused last year affecting the disposition of funds.

In his July 2 order, President John McCain told his top health care advisers to "begin immediately" reviewing the bill. The administration figures are expected to be released in the coming days.

"I have last will and testament, perforce disposed of her entire estate, consisting of real and personal property, and personal and realizable rights," the seven-page document said.

However, the court may have, by overruling, forced the companies to be dissolved.

LANDBANK

Moving with the Nation Towards Economic Progress

Consistent with its mandate, the Land Bank of the Philippines continues to implement programs that are meant to promote economic growth and countryside development. In the implementation of various development programs, LANDBANK works closely with other government agencies and development partners in channeling funds to sectors that contribute in revitalizing the local economy.

Specifically, LANDBANK has intensified its support to four sectors, namely: Farmers and Fishermen (food security), Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs), Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) and Housing.

Food Security

In support of the National Government's food security program, LANDBANK has released a total of P 2.5 billion loan for public production from January to July this year. The loaned-out amount covers farmers across the country.

LANDBANK has likewise launched various programs to boost rice production. Under its Rice Productivity Program, LANDBANK has undertaken the following measures:

- Expanded its credit contacts to include other farmer organizations, such as religious associations, NGOs, and SMAs (such as input suppliers and millers). LANDBANK can now lend to these contacts provided credit requirements such as member status, crop insurance and guarantees are in place.
- Adopted a concessional interest rate of 5% percent per annum for rice production loans of farmer organizations (FOs), and 7.5 percent for SME contacts.
- Increased its loan ceilings - from P25,000 to P50,000 for subside rice per hectare, and from P25,000 to P40,000 for hybrid rice per hectare to address the increasing cost of production inputs.
- Introduced the Magnates, Mayboard or Maygovernor Incentive Program where one percent per annum of the loan principal amount paid on time by farmer organizations can be given back to the participating FOs/contacts at the end of one year. The accumulated amount may be used as additional working capital or to buy the equipment they need for their business operation.

- Reduced the loan interest rate by one percent for rice production loans of Bank-assured Corporation (BACs), FOs and NGOs which also have a registered at least 50 new-day farmers.

To further increase and secure production, LANDBANK partnered with the Department of Agriculture and the House of Representatives.

- The House of Representatives will appropriate a portion of the Priority Development Assistance Fund (PDAF) to support rice and paddy production in their respective congressional districts.
- LANDBANK will allocate funds equivalent to three times the amount to be put up by the participating Representatives. The total amount will be made available in credit on a revolving basis to qualified farmer organizations through other eligible contacts.
- The DAF will identify areas suited for rice and corn production, provide technological and technical assistance for the project and provide infrastructure such as irrigation facilities in the identified areas.

In order to encourage private financial institutions (PFIs) to support the government's agri-productivity program, LANDBANK will administer for the Department of Agriculture the Agricultural Guarantee Fund Pool (AGFP). The AGFP will guarantee 45 percent of the PFIs' loans to their borrowers engaged in rice and agri production.

Micro and SME Sector

As of June 2008, LANDBANK's outstanding loans to the micro and SME sector reached a total of P9.1 billion. The amount loaned close to 8,000 SMEs across the country. Of the total outstanding, P1.1 billion was micro-loan various microenterprises.

For the first semester of 2008, LANDBANK released P1 billion loans for various livelihood projects of SMEs which supported over 87,000 jobs in the country.

OFWs and their Families

The Bank recognizes the major role of OFWs in helping push up the local economy which is consistent with its thrust of promoting growth and development in the countryside.

LANDBANK launched two new programs designed for the OFWs and their families.

- The OFW Cash Card is a basic, clean, attractive document (wallet, provided by Smart Money). The LANDBANK OFW Cash Card will enable Overseas Filipinos to send money home using their SMART mobile phones. With the OFW Cash Card, LANDBANK automatically the OFWs' immediate fund transfer of money into the rural areas.
- The Long-Term Repatriable Certificate of Deposit or LTFRCDs are high-yielding deposit instruments offered to overseas Filipinos and their relatives that April 2008. It is a pure denominated instrument issued in P50,000 denominations with 3 to 5-year terms. It is covered by FDIC insurance up to P250,000 per depositor, and it is a building no-charge if held up-to-maturity.

In its first public offering, LTFRCD earned an average annual yield of 7.00% and was issued at a discounted amount of P1,000.00.

The LTFRCD is designed to help OFWs and their families participate in the government's savings mobilization program. It also aims to help offset the adverse impact of the sharp price appreciation on OFWs as the LTFRCD carries a higher yield compared to existing price savings and time deposits.

HOUSING

LANDBANK is also a major player in the country's housing program. As of June 2008, LANDBANK loans comprising its housing projects amounted to P1.4 billion. LANDBANK's housing loan facilities support individual, low and medium-cost housing projects.

Recently, LANDBANK also launched its Rising Pains in Rising Bases (RIPB) Program which aims to assist the urban poor OFWs and their families.

Enrriquez 4

Washington, which has passed the controversial House of Representatives.

Increasing numbers of people led by Archbishop Angel Lagdameo, the president of the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines (CBCP), took to the streets in Manila City to protest the RH bill.

"Under the current administration, President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, the government has refused to let us continue discussing the abortion," according to the David and Lucile Packard Foundation, which funded at least five population management projects in the Philippines last year.

Competing priorities

The statement was made—and highlighted as a failure—in the foundation's 2007 Report from the International Commissioning the view," which discusses the progress of the United Nations' population policy in the Philippines, India, Nigeria, Pakistan and the Philippines. (To read the report, log on to the foundation's website: www.packard.org.)

The foundation invited the Church, saying it "has several options to consider: continue to support family welfare delivery and policy implementation in the Philippines."

It also said the Arroyo administration "has competing priorities," along with "political repression," while it "defends its policies to address RH bills."

But it added that "while the political environment remains challenging and lack population growth and cancer need for family planning remain high, future prospects may be positive."

$750,000 in grants

According to its website, the David and Lucile Packard Foundation turned over ten years at least $750,000 for the population management program of local provinces.

The David and Lucile Packard Foundation turned over ten years at least $750,000 for the population management program of local provinces.

The Catholic Church in the Philippines has been a vocal opponent of the RH bill, which is a population management program for family and reproductive health services in the workplace through public and private partnerships. The grant was spread over 30 months.

The College of Social Sciences and Philosophy of the University of the Philippines in Diliman, Quezon City, gave $250,000 for an "end-to-end population management program for family and reproductive health services in the workplace."

The National Health Research Foundation gave $200,000 for an integrated family planning and HIV prevention program for commercial sex workers.

But the report: "The foundation and its partners in the Philippines had a challenge: the rapid expansion of the health sector for a major change in attitudes while avoiding a political backlash."

"While other Asian nations make steady progress in raising high population growth rates, the Philippines lagged behind. The country's fertility rate of 2.38 is almost one child more than the desired family size, and consumption problems have begun to surface."

Continuing the report, the Philippines population growth rate at only 1.8 percent, which is only below the 2.36 percent rate set by population management services.

Bills to ring it out

The bills of all the provinces in Manila will stage a 6 p.m. rally to demand the RH bill to be signed to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Pope Paul VI's "Humanae Vitae," or the Encyclical on the Regulation of Birth.

"This will express the Catholic faith belief in life and their commitment to stand up for life," Manila Auxiliary Bishop Bernardino Carrero said in a statement.

Carrero rejected the funding on the grounds that the RH bill was "contrary to the Catholic moral teaching and the RH bill is a political issue, not a religious one."

He said Carrero, the CBCP executive secretary, said the RH bill was "not an opportunity for the Church to show its 'holistic' stance against the RH bill, but to let it show its face."

Law experts and Church experts are in a tug-of-war over the RH bill, which is in the House of Representatives.

JDV's courage to be tested

NOT A FEW OF US REMEMBER THAT FORMER Speaker Jose de Venecia has plenty of heart to spill. But as doubts his colleagues, or even supporters, the consequences of his appointment as a witness in the Senate throughout into the NINA-TTE deal.

It would be more pragmatic and beneficial for him to stay in safe waters. As these pressures that may become those that could NINA-TTE reform. But Canada want and is going through, a wise politician and business man formerly allied with OAB would be better off playing ball with Malabon's corporate rather than trying against them, because the government could be only and painful to the institution and long term.

However, it, as the congressman says, his conviction could "fury down the pendulum" they should go ahead with his conviction. If that would finally do good for the country, the Senate would be a credible witness, considering his affiliation and affinity to those who were and are in power. But if he has heard the Senate discuss that he is only motivated by respect and his subconscious desire to serve both his political power and influence, then I think he should take back his words.

Intimidate and possibly with this address.

On the other hand, he intelligently believes that he has what would make this country under the push of moral conviction and sense that in moral and strategic perspective, then it is his moral responsibility to cooperate with the Senate and give all information that he has in an objective, fair and just manner. For "America's situation is the best of an evil" is not a lie. "The New Yorker" who had been dropped a few times from his own list, playing even his own self risk of getting expelled, but in the process he would the Senate from some conviction and then the call for courage and new perspective—but the office believed he was fighting for a good cause.

Now, for the Senate, he would have to be honest. The Senate had better forget his appointment and submit to report—"blinded or not blinded?"

Consul Mandap belies allegations in letter

I AM WRITING TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION to a clearly incorrect and defamatory statement made by one Gersona Ganga in a letter published by the Inquirer on July 16, 2008. ("High case otherwise foreign service under suspicion") In his letter, Ganga said the following: "In the case of Mandap, he was accused of soliciting the businessmen to his activities in law in their joining the what found guilty and was sentenced by a US court to pay $75,000 in back wages."

On the other hand, the Inquirer has the correct information, which is published in a story on July 6. Part of the Inquirer story read as follows: "Only last year, the mother-in-law of Vice Consul Anthony Mandap of the Philippine Consulate in San Francisco pleaded guilty to soliciting to bribe Ganga and agreed to pay her $75,000 in back wages."

Ganga's error is so glaring so it is disturbing. I don't see how the Inquirer edition could have missed it. I have not seen that yet, personally as clearly as any would in the United States nor in the Philippines. I am not a criminal. Neither is any mother-in-law, who merely pleaded guilty to the charge in order to secure a quick closure to the case. The Inquirer is, in fact, he is failed to exercise sound discretion in not recording and a potentially erroneous letter, which not merely expressed an opinion, but presented evidence to the facts.

Well, I trust that the Inquirer continues to hold him to the highest sense of journalism and to correct this error.

—ANTHONY A. MANDAP, Consul, Washington

We strongly apologize for this oversight. —Ed.

FOCCI's 'stand' on Solpicio tragedies shameful

THE LEADERSHIP OF THE LAGE OF OUR NATION within the Chinese Filipino community against Solpicio-Lage. The company has been involved in several massive accidents of catastrophic proportions.

It is interesting to know what Theresa Ang has to say about the hundreds of Filipino lives lost in this tragedy.

Also, the Filipino-Chinese Chamber of Commerce and Industry (FOCCI) in Cebu, by leading its support to Solpicio-Lage, shows its total lack of moral responsibility.

And this puts the entire Chinese-Filipino community on edge, to say the least.

24,000 school buildings unsafe says DPWH

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO—About 20 percent of 88,000 buildings in the country's public elementary and secondary schools were old and poorly maintained when the Department of Public Works and Highways conducted a study in 2002.

The current number of school buildings that are structurally safe or unsafe is not yet updated and engineers have to be updated, according to Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) Secretary Danilo Lim.

Lim said that the DPWH is currently conducting a study to determine the condition of school buildings across the country.

He said that the DPWH is currently conducting a study to determine the condition of school buildings across the country.

In General Santos, more than 100 schools have been replaced following the 1991 eruption of Mt. Pinatubo.

"Which of these now continue to be the 2000 National Standard Code," Lim said.

Subdivisions underway
 He found it alarming that many educational subdivisions have sprung in the region.

The assessment process for these newly subdivided housing projects was initiated by the Housing and Land Use Regulatory Board, and are by building officials.

PROTESTING drivers urge fellow drivers to join the strike in Cebu, Lapu-Lapu where hundreds of commuters were stranded. Strikers organized the protest action on July 20.

Hundreds stranded as PUVs go on strike

CALAMBA CITY—HUNDREDS of commuters were stranded as drivers of public utility vehicles (PUVs) and tricycles went on strike in the Calabarzon region yesterday.

Rubens Wang, head of the Southern Tagalog Transport Drivers Organization (STTD), said the transport strike was successful in Calamba, Laguna, Batangas, Rizal and Quezon areas.

The strike, he said, was in protest of continued oil price increases that have risen up driver incomes.

Senior Supt. Felipe Rojas Jr., Laguna police director, said 70 percent of public utility vehicles (PUVs) and tricycles were on strike in the Calabarzon region yesterday.

Rojas said government vehicles were not out to help stranded passengers.

Arlo Canabado, a vice leader in San Pablo City, said as of 7 a.m., PUVs and tricycles operated near paralysis.

Cambodia urges withdrawing troops in Thai row

PHNOM PENH—Cambodia on Thursday called for all soldiers to be withdrawn from the disputed border area near an international border section of a week-long military standoff with Thailand.

Some 4,000 Thai and Cambodian soldiers are squared off over a small patch of land near the 118-km-long Preah Vihear temple, in a dispute that Phnom Penh has asked the UN Security Council to take up. The temple zone has been closed since the 1970s, and the area is now controlled by the Khmer Rouge. Cambodia's sovereignty, violation of international law, and the violation of the Asian-charter" by added. Senior Cambodian military officials called the area as "Thailand's military presence must be withdrawn and that of negotiators this week with Thailand which failed to find a resolution. They also said the area has been closed since the 1970s and that the area is now controlled by the Khmer Rouge. Thursday at the Asian Regional House in Singapore. "We'll continue to consult with the regional states," he said, "but we will not withdraw our troops from the area of the temple in this region," he also said. The World Court said in 1962 that the temple belongs to Cambodia, but the court's decision was not followed by Thailand, and 45-year-old members of the temple's religious community in the temple.

The UN Relief and Works Commission said it would provide food and shelter for the temple's religious community in the temple. The situation has been tense since then. # Pacman seeks equal purse for Hoya fight

By Ted S. Melanson

THE WORLD'S MOST sought-after fighter is seeking the biggest fight of his life: Manny Pacquiao, if he gets his wish, wants an equal share of the purse in the planned fight with Oscar De La Hoya.

Pacquiao, against the light and the odds, is scheduled to fight with De La Hoya on July 22 at the MGM Grand in Las Vegas. The fight will be a pay-per-view event, but the purse is still in the air.

"If De La Hoya is going to get $10 million, I want to get $10 million," Pacquiao said in a recent interview. "I want to be a millionaire."

Light that I could see I have reached the peak of the mountain," the Filipino superstar said yesterday, one day before Pacquiao's fight.

Two years ago, Pacquiao was a local hero in his hometown of Davao City, where he won the WBA title in 1991. He was then a local hero in his hometown of Davao City, where he won the WBA title in 1991.

Pacquiao said that he is a fighter who is not afraid of the big fight. He is a fighter who is not afraid of the big fight. He is a fighter who is not afraid of the big fight. He is a fighter who is not afraid of the big fight.

How fitness marries fashion

Abstract: The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-impact exercise program on the physical fitness and health-related quality of life of older adults. The study was a randomized controlled trial. The participants were 60 older adults (mean age = 70.5 years) who were randomly assigned to either the exercise group or the control group. The exercise group performed a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-impact exercise program. The control group did not perform any exercise. The results showed that the exercise group had significantly higher physical fitness and health-related quality of life than the control group. The findings suggest that a 12-week, low-intensity, low-impact, and low-impact exercise program can improve the physical fitness and health-related quality of life of older adults.

Abstract

Get fashionably fit and fab

Style and sport should complement one another

Numerous studies have shown that the use of a computer can improve the accuracy of data collection and analysis. However, the use of a computer can also be a source of error. One of the most common sources of error is the use of a computer program that is not designed for the task at hand. This can lead to incorrect results and wasted time. Another common source of error is the use of a computer program that is not updated regularly. This can lead to outdated results and wasted time. Finally, the use of a computer program that is not secure can lead to data loss and other security issues. Therefore, it is important to choose a computer program that is designed for the task at hand, is updated regularly, and is secure.

IN THESE times of recession, rising inflation rates and blown-out gasoline prices, it may seem petty to be spending big on fashion. But that all depends on what you spend on. When you spend on a clutch bag, you're not just spending on a bag, you're spending on a statement. It's all about the clutch bag, which is the only bag you need to take everywhere. The clutch bag is the only bag you need to take everywhere. The clutch bag is the only bag you need to take everywhere.

LOUIS VUITTON clutch bag

One bag that's making the headlines this season is the clutch bag. The difference is, you won't see clutches reserved solely for evening occasions or the red carpet. Clutches have now moved into the daytime, with bigger sizes available. Designers have also started to diversify fabrics, colors and textures to make clutch bags more practical for everyday use. Louis Vuitton and Jean Paul Gaultier have created the clutch bag for the modern woman. The clutch bag is the only bag you need to take everywhere. The clutch bag is the only bag you need to take everywhere.

Crimson lips are hot

But you have to find the shade that fits best your skin type

TAKE A CLUE FROM JESSICA Alba, Penelope Cruz, Milla Jovovich and Shu Ting: These who have recently been seen at the red carpet, wearing glamorous red lips.

There is just something about crimson lips that makes a woman look and feel alluring. The color and saturation is power, and when it is put on lips is sexy, sultry and dramatic. It evokes confidence from the viewer and demands attention from the audience. And when worn at the right time and place can be nothing!

For most women though, a red lip can be intimidating. And for many more we're not the wrong way of wearing red lips on other people. Images of women wearing over the top lip, women from various applications and the most common, getting lipsticks on the teeth are only a few reasons to remain hesitant in our favorite shade lipstick.

Kelly Hua
Trends of the Trade

Find your perfect shade. Getting the right shade of red is critical, the key is to get the shade that complements your skin tone. "If you have fair skin, go for reds with blue undertones, and if you have olive or dark complexion, choose reds with brown or orange will flatter you," says Cruz. A tip for finding that perfect shade is to wear it on the back of your hand. Lying this can help you see the subtle color differences of each lipstick and find the one that suits you.

Maintain your lips. Dry or chapped lips look bad, so use lip balm before you put on a lipstick. Use a lip brush to apply lipstick to your lips. A lip brush will make sure the lipstick is applied evenly and doesn't smudge. Use a lip brush to apply lipstick to your lips. A lip brush will make sure the lipstick is applied evenly and doesn't smudge.

Apply with care. Follow the lead of makeup pros and use a lip brush when applying red lipstick. It keeps you within the natural line of your lips and helps avoid messy mistakes. Start at the base of your lips and blend the color out towards the outer edge of your mouth. Do not apply the lipstick directly on the corners of your mouth as it can look harsh and downcast," Cruz says.

Wear it right. It is easy to get discouraged with making your red lip look just like that you end up applying the lipstick on too thickly. It looks like a red lipstick on your mouth can look sexy and sexy. It is best to apply the lip color thinly, and in layers. Cruz tells us how she does it: "After the first coat, lightly blot the lips with a single sheet of paper and apply another thin coat of color. A few thin layers will last longer than a single thick one."

Prevent the red from bleeding. Apply a thin coat of a heavy application by lightly brushing on concealer on the edges of your lips. This is possible the contrast between the color of your skin and the red color of your lips.

Keep the lipstick every from your teeth. Getting lipstick on your teeth is a definite no-no! To avoid this, brush your teeth before you apply the lipstick. Use a lip brush to apply lipstick to your lips. A lip brush will make sure the lipstick is applied evenly and doesn't smudge. Use a lip brush to apply lipstick to your lips. LUCY TORRES-GONZALEZ with 4-year-old daughter Juliana. She wants another baby.

A boy's name for next baby

By Maribel R. Cruz

RICHARD GOMEZ AND LUCY TORRES, whose daughter Juliana turns 4 this year, are waiting on another baby, particularly a boy. They already have a name to mind: Maribel R. Cruz.

Richard, 40, is a businessman, "Maribel" the name of Lucy's dad, while Juliana is in his baby's name. But really, we will wait until a boy is a girl.

Lucy added, "We're not waiting. I look for a wife-right partner with him, too."

Richard would like to have the baby in all Lucy's, "We're very happy," he said.

Lucy, 33, said she's used to being asked about having another child. "I don't feel pressure," she said.

Choosing with maribel, which Lucy also revealed the name in her home, about 3 years ago, she revealed the name with Juliana, and her dream of one day seeing Richard in another woman's arms with Juliana, Cruzes or Torres, Cruzes, the former girl's name.

How do you bond with Juliana? "We love to play and read, we love to read her books. We also do arts and crafts. Her favorite with Richard is soccer. Physical, like pillow fights, or sliding down the window blinds. She likes to say 'the world is my oyster'."
